THE CITIZEN.
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1877.
LOCAL MATTERS.
A FRIED has obliged us with a copy of Col. Hodge's book on Arizona for examination, which he has kindly loaned to the CITIZEN. Taking its representations of the Territory in a general sense, the work is quite accurate, but in numerous details it is not so, and in some respects it falls to state the truth as the author must have well known it. Having produced a book with considerable useful information, the author can properly pass without being subjected to criticism which he has so justly earned in the minor features of the book. The fact that so many prominent men indorse the author without the slightest knowledge of the contents of his book, adds nothing to its merits. It is very clear that Mr. Hodge has no adequate conception of an author's province. As a newspaper correspondent he is passable; as a maker of books, away below mediocrity.
ATTENTION SMOKERS.—If you want a fine imported Havana cigar, go to Mansfield's News Depot.
READ THE dissolution notice of Messrs. Norton, Stewart & Co. It will be seen that Tully, Ochoa & Co. retire from the firm and Norton and Stewart continue with the good will and endorsement of the retiring members. As it stood, the firm was one of the strongest and largest dealers in Arizona, and Messrs. Norton & Stewart will fully sustain the reputation of the old. They will constantly keep not only an abundant supply of merchandise adapted to the special wants of a military post, but all such as are needed by miners, farmers, stock-raisers, travelers and teamsters. They are entirely upright dealers, having the entire endorsement of the well known firm recently associated with them.
THE very best assortment of writing material, ink, pens, etc., can be found at J. S. Mansfield's News Depot.
THE CITIZEN has heretofore mentioned that a militia company had been organized in Pueblo Viejo Valley. During the week Adjutant General Samuel Hughes has received the commissions from Governor Hoyt, viz: For Wm. H. Kirkland, Captain; Juan Vaz, First Lieutenant; and Jose Taylor, Second Lieutenant of Company K, Arizona Volunteers. The roll of the company on September 15, showed eighty-three members. The officers have been officially notified by the Adjutant General, that when they come forward and give proper security for arms, they will get them and their organization be completed.

INDIANS seem to be prowling about Sonora Valley and the head of Davidson's Canyon. Mr. Thomas Hughes has been in town this week and reports that the same party that shot at Mr. Hetti and reported in THE CITIZEN last Saturday, visited his corn and vegetable and helped themselves to considerable. On Monday night or about then, a couple of cattle were killed at the head of Davidson's Canyon and all the meat taken, and also two others belonging to Mr. Sanford, were killed near Barrel Springs. Diligent search along the valley failed to discover where the Indians left the Sonora, showing that they were quite shrewd in their movements.
ROSTAN and Hacoma cigarrillos at J. S. Mansfield's News Depot.
THE bean crop will be short this year. The frost of September 24, was quite general, and we learn that the thirty crops of Pueblo Viejo Valley were destroyed. From the best information at hand, it is safe to say that this important crop will be almost a failure in Pima county. Corn in Pueblo Viejo Valley and some other localities will be an average crop.
FAMILIES accommodated at the Palace Hotel.
LAST Saturday Mr. Frank Staples, agent for Wells, Fargo & Co. in Tucson, left for a short business trip to San Francisco. Capt. C. M. Bailey, Company D, Eighth Infantry, left by same day's stage on a leave of absence. May both have a pleasant recreation and safe return.

ADJUTANT GENERAL HUGHES this day supplied Company I, Arizona Volunteers, with fifteen stand of arms and ammunition, and gave the officers their commissions, they having given ample bonds as required. Charles M. Ballard is commissioned Captain and George T. Woolfolk, First Lieutenant. These officers say the people on the upper San Pedro have gone there to stay despite the Indians, and their appearance and conduct show that they mean what they say. Some progress is being constantly made in reclaiming the Territory from Apache rule. With local military organizations in Pueblo Viejo, San Pedro, Arivaca and Santa Rita, and the various companies of the regular army at Thomas, Grant, Bowie, Hanchuan and the Indian scouts, it does seem as if the hostile Apaches would soon find southwestern Arizona an uncomfortable section to depredate upon.
FOLLOWING is the jury's verdict in the case of the killing of William Wade: We, the jurors, unanimously to appear before Miles L. Wood, J. P., and ex-officio coroner of the County of Pima at Camp Grant on the 26th day of September, 1877, to inquire into the cause of the death of William Wade, having been duly sworn according to law, and having made such inquiry after inspecting the body, and hearing the testimony adduced upon our oaths, each and all of us do say that we find the deceased was named William Wade, aged 28 years, that he came to his death on the 28th of September, 1877, in this county by a pistol-shot wound fired from a pistol in the hands of Geo. W. Atkins in defense of his own life and in the opinion of the jury, the act was justifiable. M. W. Stewart, foreman, C. W. Feiter, J. H. Norton, James L. Hunt, E. N. Fish, Wm. Sw. in.
M. L. Wood, Ex-officio Coroner.
DISTRICT COURT meets next Monday at 10 a. m. These are the names of the grand jurors: Peter Kitchin, Alexander Wilkins, Samuel Hughes, J. S. Vosburg, Estevan Ochoa, B. M. Jacobs, F. L. Austin, Sabino Otero, Jacob S. Mansfield, James Carroll, I. S. Fried, Una T. Etchells, Theo. Welsh, Philip Drachman, J. R. Toole, E. D. Wood, Thomas Driscoll, Geo. J. Alton, James F. Hancock, Thomas Beckman, Mary Malony, Oscar Beckman and E. N. Fish.
The law card of Hon. Geo. H. Williams, Washington, D. C., appears in to-day's paper. Mr. Williams is a lawyer of the highest repute. His long residence there, and official life as a United States Senator and Attorney General, have enabled him to become thoroughly familiar with the practice in all the Departments and Courts in Washington. Arizona people having legal business in that city, can rely upon sound advice and safe transaction of any matters entrusted to him.
MR. J. A. APPERSON left yesterday for Florence, where he will take a place in the County Recorder's office. Mr. Apperson is a beautiful and accurate penman and thoroughly familiar with county records. He is superior in the matter of making up abstracts of title to landed property. Mr. Levine, county recorder, we are sure will find in Mr. Apperson an assistant in every way competent.

THE Missouri Valley Life Insurance Company of Leavenworth, Kansas, has gone into liquidation, but as we understand it, the action is voluntary, and policy holders will be furnished with paid-up policies for the amount of premiums paid. Quite a number of people in Tucson are insured in the Company for from $250 to $10,000 and a few have paid up about $1000. Col. David Taylor, formerly stationed here and a resident of Leavenworth, was the first to send notice of the Company's action to this town. The Colonel has a large insurance on himself in the Company, and advises against any hasty action on the part of policy holders. In reply to a telegram from Charles T. Etchells of this town, Squires Taylor advises to pay no more premiums and to take a paid-up policy for the amount paid in. From the information received from Col. Taylor and the son who live in Leavenworth, we are of opinion the Company will settle honorably with its patrons. If the liquidation were enforced instead of voluntary, we would not encourage any one to hope for any return before or after death—for the money paid.
ARE second-hand guns as good as new ones? is a question often asked but never fully explained in but few words. A gun that has been used is generally always tried, and any defects in it are always remedied by the owners, who are in nearly every case marksmen of ability, who often times are hard up for a little change, through the many extravagances appertaining to members of Sporting Clubs, who generally call on Uncle Harris and leave their towing pieces with him. We understand he has a very fine breech-loading Remington shot-gun, which cost $65, wholesale price will be sold for $30; also, a fine English breech-loader, which was imported from London for $50—will be sold for $30; also a Parker Gun, breech-loader, price $28. A French pin-fire breech-loader, cost in France $50—price $20. We advise our readers, should they need any of these guns, call or send by express to 702 and 704 Kearny street, between Clay and Merchant, four doors from the City Hall, San Francisco, Cal.
J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. have an advertisement of interest on the fourth page of THE CITIZEN. The publications they offer are of great interest and cover the whole range of objects and subjects relating to human necessities, conveniences, comforts, luxuries, etc., and the whole is the work of the most eminent men in their several occupations and professions.
A Remarkable Stage Robbery.
Our Wickenburg dispatch last Saturday, gave some particulars of the robbery of the California & Arizona stage twelve miles from that place, but a correspondent of the Prescott Enterprise gives others of interest showing it, in one respect at least, to have been a remarkable job for one "agent"—as it is certain one did the "business" alone. The passengers were Mr. Ed. G. Peck and family, his father and mother, and Messrs. Dan Thorn and Ellis, the two latter gentlemen being on the driver's seat. The robber stepped from the bushes and with a double barreled shotgun compelled the driver to stop so quickly as to throw him on the ground where he laid while Mr. Thorn was made to break open the express box with an axe with which the robber provided him, and Mr. Ellis was required to rip open the mail sacks and afterwards obeyed further orders and opened the valuable mail packages. Two bars of bullion belonging to the Peck Company, were returned to the stage with the broken express box and cut mail bags. The robber, after completing his work, mounted his horse which was tied at a little distance from the scene of robbery, and proceeded at a rapid gait about 600 yards north when he discharged his gun. The account in the Enterprise, states what is not surprising under the circumstances, viz:
The coolness with which the robbers gave and the jokes issued by the robber shows him to be possessed of a most enviable nerve and unprecedented quantity of unadulterated cheek. He is described as being about five feet eight inches in height, slim built, dark hair and as having been dressed in the garb of a laboring man.
In addition to the matter taken from the express, there were taken $600 U. S. currency belonging to the Postoffice Department; bar of gold bullion belonging to C. P. Head & Co., worth $470; registered letters containing various accounts of money and checks. Many checks sent off by the mail were saved and brought back.
No Through Mails Eastward.
No through mails by New Mexico have arrived at Tucson for about two weeks. Assistant Postmaster Drake informs us that the mails come and go with regularity as far east as Bowie, Grant, Goodwin and Safford and perhaps to Clifton. On the main overland route between Bowie and Mesilla, although a daily line, mails only get through accidentally since the Indian outbreak of a few weeks ago. The contractors say drivers cannot be employed because of the danger. This is not a subject of wonder; on the contrary it has been a subject of wonder for years that men could be hired to pass over a route on which so many have been killed. Of course, considerable intervals of time have elapsed in which none were killed, but the conditions out that way for years, have been such as to make most prudent men avoid employment along the line. The consequence has been, unreliable service and little business over the line to what there otherwise would and should have been. Hardly a day passes on which we are not asked about the safety of that route by men who want to pass over all or part of it on business. The progress of the country has been and is retarded because of the general insecurity along it. It seems rather bad that at this late day, men cannot be induced to risk their lives and property on that great overland mail route. But it is so. We have communication, however, thanks to the Signal Service. While there are stacks of overland mail at Bowie, messages can be sent at very low rates over the telegraph, and thus prevent irreparable damage to business men. Congress should strengthen up this cheap and almost invaluable service. So far as we can learn, it has proven itself worthy of the aid given it and justifies the hope that Congress will strengthen it up and enlarge its area of usefulness.

Since the foregoing was in type, a through mail reached here on Thursday, bringing Santa Fe letters to September 19, and perhaps later; also, Mesilla valley papers to the 22d. It also brought considerable old mail back to eastern dates in May, including a lot of mutilated mail matter discovered near Stein's Peak by James Mason and J. L. Colvix, this latter being a part of the mail carried by Sam Ward who was shot by Indians May 31. Among the matter was a draft for several hundred dollars for Tully, Ochoa & Co., business letters for nearly all our mercantile houses, official matter for the Tucson postoffice, United States District Attorney Pomroy, and the pardon issued last May for James S. Giles, defaulting postmaster at Prescott, whose term of imprisonment had about expired. It was a very important mail, and it is strange that the matter taken by the Indians so long remained undiscovered.
Expenses of Liquidation.
Simultaneously with the publication in the Ledger of the complaint that "nobody seems able or willing to devise a cheap and expeditious process of liquidation," the New York papers published an account of how Judge Robinson, of that city, applied a temporary remedy to the growing abuse of excessive legal charges in assignment cases. A referee has been appointed to examine into the accounts of the assignee of a bankrupt firm. The report of the referee came before the Court for confirmation, and it then appeared that he had allowed $400 counsel fees to the attorney of a creditor whose claim for $133 had never been disputed; that he had allowed the special trustee $6,000 as compensation, though the legal fees amounted to only $380; that he had awarded $40,000 to the assignee, whose legal commissions were only $11,392, and that he had awarded to the assignee's counsel $10,000 for legal services in addition to $1,000 previously paid them. Judge Robinson refused to sanction these awards, and characterized them as exorbitant. In doing so he took occasion to remind the assignee and referee of the responsibility resting upon the Court to administer estates with due regard to the interests of absent creditors, and it may be presumed, rather startled the lawyers by enunciating the doctrine that the fees charged by them should be proportioned to the amount of work done, without regard to the amount of the estate. Every one will recognize this as a good, sensible doctrine, but it seldom obtains in practice, and the claims made for the services of assignees and lawyers too often, as Judge Robinson says, "suggest the acquisition of fortunes of thousands of dollars in the happy accident of an employment in the course of the execution of such an assignment."—Philadelphia Ledger.
Mining Matters.
Inquiries are being made as to what it will cost to sink a shaft one hundred feet on the Nequilla mine, west of Tucson, by San Francisco parties who have made a conditional purchase of it, and intend to thoroughly explore it.
R. B. Kelly is pushing work on his lead mine (which is turning to silver) near town. He has made a sale of 20,000 pounds of the ore for use at the King mine. There seems to be a vast vein of galena and the latest developments show ore that appears to be quite valuable for silver alone.
Mr. Prentice Head informs us that C. O. Brown has made a sale of the Young America copper mine to San Francisco men for $5,000 and that active work will be commenced right away. The Young America is situated some fifty miles about west of Tucson.
Mr. Flood, of Kirkpatrick & Co., of Oro Blanco district, was in town this week for some assays' supplies. He says their mines are entirely satisfactory, and that Col. D. H. Fogus is highly pleased with the district and its mines.
Mr. John McCafferty, of the Guajira Arivaca district, has returned from San Francisco with encouragement to go ahead on his mines.
Col. C. P. Sykes returned from San Francisco yesterday morning. It will be remembered that he was here last spring and made a thorough examination of the San Xav. or mine, and took with him to the city half a ton of the ore showing every grade, and the tests were highly satisfactory. Owing to the extremely dull season, he, like hundreds of others, did not find ready assistance, but his indomitable perseverance, was bound to succeed, and the prospect now is very fair that ere long he will have actual mining and reduction of ore going forward.
Mr. David T. Harshaw is in from the Alta. He says the mine looks better than ever, and the ore assays up to the hundreds. The company do not yet get satisfactory—although paying—results from the ore. The highest result yet obtained is $83 to the ton, and double that amount should be saved; but he says the great value of the mine is fully proven, and they will go ahead determined to have larger results, and the pluck already shown by the company is the kind that insures the desired success.
Col. J. D. Graham, Secretary of the Aztec company, is here from San Francisco. He comes to make inspection of the company's mines and to decide on the advisability of putting up reduction works at present. The Colonel with Gov. Safford and Manager Magee, left early in the week for the mines and are expected back to-day.

Samuel Hughes and others leave to-day for Montezuma district, about 35 miles to the southwest of town, where some extraordinarily rich ore has lately been developed in a mine by Mr. Pacheco.
L. M. Jacobs & Co. this week received thirty-two pounds of silver bullion and $800 in gold dust from the Santa Rita placers.
ITEMS from the Prescott Enterprise of September 29:
George Marlow was on Thursday elected assignee of the estate of G. A. Strickland, bankrupt, by the creditors. A little hanging would we think put a stop to stage robbing. It is sure to come to that sooner or later.
Judge Tweed has nominated Charles B. Rush, nephew of John A. Rush, to be Register in Bankruptcy for this district.
Governor Hoyt, in behalf of the Territory, offers a reward of five hundred dollars for the capture of the person or persons who robbed the stage Thursday last. Wells, Fargo & Co. have a standing reward of three hundred dollars, and will also give one-fourth of the treasure recovered.
Capt. T. C. Tupper and Lieut. J. B. Kerr are appointed to meet at Camp Bowie, and such other places as may be found necessary, to purchase a lot of mules, not to exceed fifty-six, and at a cost of not over $100 each.
In the District Court, on Thursday, J. A. Lewis was sentenced to be hung for the murder of his wife, Henrietta Lewis, on the 7th of August, this present year. The Judge has fixed the time of the execution on Friday, the 23d of November next.
Two human skeletons were recently found in an abandoned shaft on the Stirling mine. They are supposed to be the remains of two Germans, who disappeared two or three years ago, and who are thought to have gone into the mine for the purpose of taking out tools, and were never heard from again.
By a correspondence published in a New Mexican paper, it is seen that C. P. Huntington stated about the first of September, that the Southern Pacific railroad was located to Maricopa Wells, and that it was undecided whether the line would be continued by the way of Florence or not. It now seems, however, that the company will not push the road much this side of Yuma until after the meeting of the next Congress, unless it is determined to push up the Gila without regard to legal or other obstacles—just as the cars were run over the Colorado bridge into Yuma.
